Art Unit: 3724

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kozulic '728, who shows a rectangle shaped cutting tube (24, line 58, column 5), a round handle (20, line 55, column 5) and a removable plug (30). The parts are made of plastic (line 34, column 5). The cutting tip size is disclosed on lines 46-48, column 6.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kozulic. If one were to argue that Kozulic's rectangular cutting tube was not between 2mm and 10mm wide and between 3mm and 40mm long, then Examiner notes that Kozulic discloses a round cutting tube in that size range, and It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have made the rectangular cutting tube roughly that size or slightly larger (lines 47,48, column 6), since that is the best guidance available for one making the device.

5. Made of record but not relied on are numerous gel cutting patents.
6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Ken Peterson at 571-272-4512, on Monday-Thursday, 7AM-5PM.
